Faculty

Jessica Hardy Assoc. AIA, Senior Attorney at Macdonald Devin

Ms. Hardy represents architects, engineers, and other design professionals as a senior attorney at Macdonald Devin. Holding a degree in Architecture as well as a J.D. degree, she is uniquely positioned to help those in the construction and design industries protect their interests, minimize their risks, and achieve their goals. Focusing her practice on construction litigation, Ms. Hardy's background and professional experience in architecture includes working on numerous multimillion-dollar projects for multi-family, retail, office, mixed-use, industrial and institutional clients. She received her Bachelor of Architecture degree from Auburn University School of Architecture and earned her law degree from the University of Alabama School of Law.

Ariel Steuer, ASID, NCIDQ Interior Designer, The Kubala Washatko Architects

Ms. Steuer is the lead interior designer at The Kubala Washatko Architects, where a design philosophy of Wholeness is practiced, in which the built environment supports and enhances both human activity and natural living systems. With an overarching concern for how people are affected by the built environment, her goal is to integrate regenerative and living practices into spaces for the healing of people and planet. As a lifelong learner who is always diving deeper, she is guided by practical and established methodologies for bringing wholeness to the forefront. By synthesizing various fields of study, she connects the dots to illustrate how human health and wellbeing are interconnected with the quality of our natural and built environments, resulting in new perspectives for approaching how we design buildings and spaces.

Dr. Peter B. Dedek is an associate professor at Texas State University in the Department of History. He teaches courses in historic preservation, and the history of architecture and interior design. His most recent book is The Cemeteries of New Orleans: A Cultural History (State University of Louisiana Press 2017). He has written two other titles, Historic Preservation for Designers (Fairchild Books, 2014) and Hip to the Trip: a Cultural History of Route 66 (University of New Mexico Press, 2007).

Sonja Bochart, IIDA., LEED AP BD&C, WELL AP Principal with Shepley Bulfinch

Ms. Bochart's background in creating meaningful and healthy spaces can be found in her over 20 year of experience as a designer, shaping spaces for connection, healing and overall well-being. She is a principal with Shepley Bulfinch and also provides consulting services through Lens Strategy, a consulting studio within Shepley Bulfinch. An avid speaker, instructor, leader and writer, she promotes thoughtfulness and leading-edge innovations of holistic design with a focus on human health and wellness. Her interior design portfolio includes award-winning educational, community, international, cultural, residential and corporate spaces. Her designs and workshops integrate leading edge principles of biophilia (passion for life), mindfulness, evidence-based design, storytelling and sustainability to create holistic places of wellness, inspiration and transformation.

Glen Boudreaux, RID, ASID Principal and Owner of Boudreaux Associates, LLC

Mr. Boudreaux has spent the last 42 years creating distinctive residential and commercial projects providing personal luxury lifestyle environments for high-end residential, commercial and hospitality clients around Texas, the United States and Costa Rica. He is a leader and distinguished member within the interior design community and is respected by his peers and clients as well. Armed with a degree in interior design from LSU School of Architecture, he is a registered interior designer (RID) in Texas. He is also a member of, and has led, numerous organizations including ASID, TAID, IFDA, and IDG. Mr. Boudreaux is a past member of the Best Practices Network (BPN), an exclusive group of only 100 top-tier interior designers, nationwide. D Home Magazine has named Mr. Boudreaux to the list of "The Best Designers in Dallas" nine times. He has been a professor of interior design for 28 years and is currently chair of the Interior design Department at Wade College.
